AGENDA

M/S/C: To adopt agenda as presented.

M/S/C: To adopt minutes of last meeting as published in Labour/Le Travail, 30 (Fall 1992), 369-71.

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

BRYAN PALMER REPORTED on the state of the libel suit launched by Hardial Bains et al over the committee's publication of Jack Scott: A Communist Life. Barring any settlement, it will likely go to trial in the spring of 1994.

REPORT OF THE TREASURER

GREG KEALEY REPORTED that the financial position of the Committee continues to be healthy and pointed out that the acquisition of new computer equipment had improved the print quality of Labour/Le Travail.

REPORT OF THE EDITOR

GREG KEALEY REPORTED that subscriptions to Labour/Le Travail has long remained steady at about 1,100, although there was a slight dip in numbers, possibly due to the recession. He also reported activity in the Committee's book publishing ventures, as a number of titles are in production or under consideration.

ARCHIVES REPORT

i) GEORGE BOLOTENKO REPORTED on his recent trip to archives in Russia where he was assessing the state of collections relating to Canada on behalf of the National Archives of Canada. He visited seven central archives in Moscow and St. Petersburg as well as several ministerial archives. He noted a high degree of decentralization, commercialization, and confusion in the Russian archival system. On the other hand, the archives are now quite open and a wide variety of material is accessible. The Hoover Institute has a huge publishing program of Soviet archival material. He was able to report the existence of "a wealth" of material relating to Canada. The National Archives of Canada will develop a program of acquisition; its extent will be determined by the available funding. Bolotenko reported on some of the issues involved in finding qualified researchers in Russia and suggested that those interested in undertaking research in Russia could contact him at the National Archives.

ii) PETER DELOTTINVILLE REPORTED that a revised guide to the Department of Labour records is now available.

M/S/C: That, on behalf of the Committee, Greg Kealey protest the recent imposition of fees for work on access requests.

REPORT ON THE LABOUR AND WORKING-CLASS HISTORY WORKSHOP
NEXT YEAR'S WORKSHOP in Calgary will be co-ordinated by Alvin Finkel and Jeff Taylor, both of Athabasca University.
