CAPITAL & CLASS

The journal of the Conference of Socialist Economists

Since 1977 Capital & Class has been the main independent source for a Marxist critique of global capitalism. Pioneering key debates on value theory, domestic labour, and the state, it reaches out into the labour, trade union, anti-racist, feminist, environmentalist and other radical movements. Capital & Class analyses the important political, economic and social developments of our time and applies a materialist framework unconstrained by divisions into economics, politics, sociology or history. Each issue of the journal includes both in-depth papers and an extensive book reviews section.

SUBSCRIBE TO CAPITAL & CLASS

Subscribers receive three issues of Capital & Class per year, plus access to the journal's online electronic archive containing the entire back catalogue of the journal from 1977 to the present day. An easy-to-use search engine makes it possible to search the full text of more than 1400 articles and over 700 book reviews, and subscribers can download high quality printable .pdf files. The Capital & Class on-line archive is a major contribution to contemporary Marxist scholarship.

But Capital & Class not just another scholarly left-wing journal. Its editorial board members are elected representatives of a democratic membership organisation. Individual subscribers become members of the Conference of Socialist Economists with the right to vote at the AGM, elect members to the executive committee and editorial board, and influence policy. Members are encouraged to set up CSE local groups and participate in and initiate discussions and debates about both theoretical understanding and practical action.

EUGENE A. FORSEY PRIZE

IN CANADIAN LABOUR AND WORKING-CLASS HISTORY

The Canadian Committee on Labour History invites submissions for the Eugene A. Forsey Prize for graduate and undergraduate work on Canadian labour and working-class history.

Prizes are awarded annually for the best undergraduate essay, or the equivalent, and for the best graduate thesis completed in the past three years. The awards are determined by separate committees established by the executive of the CCLH. In the spirit of the journal Labour/Le Travail itself, the committees interpret the definition of Canadian labour and working-class history broadly.

Undergraduate essays may be nominated by course instructors, but nominators are limited to one essay per competition. Additionally, authors may submit their own work. Essays not written at a university or college may be considered for the undergraduate awards.

For the graduate prize, supervisors may nominate one thesis per competition or an author of a thesis may submit a copy. Submissions of both MA and PhD theses are welcome. Theses defended on or after 1 May 2006 are eligible for consideration in the current competition.

The Prize is supported by an anonymous donor, with the consent of the late Dr. Forsey's family, the CCLH chose to name the Prize in his honour because of his pioneering work in the field of Canadian labour history. Dr. Forsey was Research Director of the Canadian Congress of Labour and later the Canadian Labour Congress and also served on the committee which founded Labour/Le Travail.

The deadline for submissions in the current competition is 1 June 2009. Prizes will be announced in a forthcoming issue of Labour/Le Travail. Previous winners of the Prize are listed on the CCLH website. To submit entries to the competition, four copies of essays and one copy of a thesis must be sent to Forsey Prize, Canadian Committee on Labour History, c/o Centre for State and Legal Studies, Athabasca University, 1 University Drive, Athabasca, AB T9S 3A3 Canada.

PRIX EUGENE A. FORSEY

EN HISTOIRE CANADIENNE DU TRAVAIL ET DE LA CLASSE OUVRIÈRE

LE COMITÉ CANADIEN sur l'histoire du travail (CCHT) sollicite des candidatures de la part des étudiants et des étudiantes des 1^{er}, 2^e et 3^e cycles qui oeuvrent dans le domaine de l'histoire canadienne du travail et de la classe ouvrière.

Deux prix sont accordés annuellement : un prix pour la meilleure thèse ou le meilleur mémoire rédigé au cours des trois dernières années, ainsi qu'un prix pour le meilleur travail rédigé dans l'année par un étudiant ou une étudiante de 1^{er} cycle. Deux comités distincts, mis en place par l'exécutif du CCHT, procéderont à la sélection des lauréats et des lauréates. À l'instar des membres de la rédaction de Labour/Le Travail, les comités responsables de l'octroi du Prix définissent l'histoire canadienne du travail et de la classe ouvrière de façon large.

Les professeurs peuvent recommander des travaux d'étudiants et d'étudiantes du 1^{er} cycle, mais ils doivent se limiter à une seule présentation par concours. Les auteurs peuvent soumettre eux-mêmes leur travail. Pour le prix attribué aux étudiants et aux étudiantes du 1^{er} cycle, les travaux réalisés hors de l'université ou du collège sont admissibles.

En ce qui concerne le prix décerné aux étudiants et aux étudiantes des 2^e et 3^e cycles, les professeurs ne peuvent proposer qu'une thèse ou un mémoire par concours, et les auteurs peuvent soumettre leur candidature eux-mêmes. Les thèses et les mémoires soutenus à partir du 1^{er} mai 2006 sont admissibles à la phase actuelle du concours.

Ce prix, dont l'attribution est rendue possible grâce à un don anonyme, vise à honorer la mémoire de Eugene A. Forsey, un pionnier dans le domaine de l'histoire canadienne du travail et de la classe ouvrière, qui a été directeur de recherche au Congrès canadien du travail et aussi au Congrès du travail du Canada et membre du comité fondateur de Labour/Le Travail. C'est avec l'assentiment de la famille de feu Eugene A. Forsey que le CCHT a donné son nom à ce prix.

La date limite de présentation des candidatures est fixée au 1er juin 2009. Les noms des récipiendaires seront publiés dans un numéro de Labour/Le Travail et les noms des lauréats et des lauréates des années précédentes seront inscrits sur le site Web du CCHT. Les travaux doivent être soumis en quatre exemplaires et les thèses et mémoires en un seul, à l'adresse suivante : Forsey Prize, Canadian Committee on Labour History, c/o Centre for State and Legal Studies, Athabasca University, 1 University Drive, Athabasca, AB T9S 3A3 Canada.

CANADIAN COMMITTEE ON LABOUR HISTORY

LABOUR/LE TRAVAIL

Journal of Canadian Labour Studies

Labour/Le Travail is the official publication of the Canadian Committee on Labour History (CCLH). Since it began publishing in 1976, it has carried many important articles in the field of working-class history, industrial sociology, labour economics, and labour relations. Although primarily interested in a historical perspective on Canadian workers, the journal is interdisciplinary in scope. In addition to articles, the journal features documents, conference reports, an annual bibliography of materials in Canadian labour studies, review essays, and reviews. While the main focus of the journal's articles is Canada, the review essays and reviews consider international work of interest to Canadian labour studies.

Many of Labour/Le Travail's articles are illustrated and each issue is book length, averaging 350+ pages. For a complete listing of volumes and articles, visit the journal's website at <http://www.cclh.ca>. Past issues now available online at www.lttjournal.ca
