

RED FISH & HUCKLEBERRIES

Pine Ratcliffe

Volume 15, numéro 1, 2024

INVINCIBLE: Our Voices from Care. A Storytelling Project by Indigenous Youth in Care

URI : <https://id.erudit.org/iderudit/1112572ar>

DOI : <https://doi.org/10.18357/ijcys151202421966>

Aller au sommaire du numéro

Éditeur(s)

University of Victoria

ISSN

1920-7298 (numérique)

Découvrir la revue

Citer ce document

Ratcliffe, P. (2024). RED FISH & HUCKLEBERRIES. International Journal of Child, Youth and Family Studies, 15(1), 199–201.
<https://doi.org/10.18357/ijcys151202421966>

© Pine Ratcliffe, 2024

Cet document est protégé par la loi sur le droit d'auteur. L'utilisation des services d'Érudit (y compris la reproduction) est assujettie à sa politique d'utilisation que vous pouvez consulter en ligne.

<https://apropos.erudit.org/fr/usagers/politique-dutilisation/>

RED FISH & HUCKLEBERRIES

Pine Ratcliffe

Keywords: Indigenous youth in care; Indigenous youth storytelling; Indigenous youth poetry

Acknowledgement: We raise our hands in deepest respect and gratitude to the ancestors and families of the ləkʷəŋən and WSÁNEĆ nations and to our own ancestors and Nations. We raise our hands to all Indigenous children and youth who have grown up in colonial systems, to those we have lost, and to those who survive, resist, and imagine justice and resurgence. INVINCIBLE is grateful for funding provided by the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada (Insight grant 435-2020-1191) and the Canet Foundation.

Pine Ratcliffe is an Indigenous youth in care and an INVINCIBLE youth storyteller/researcher who has been working with the Kinship Rising research project at the University of Victoria since 2023.

Please contact the Kinship Rising project: kinshiprising@uvic.ca

Red Fish & Huckleberries

BY PINE RATCLIFFE

That summer we picked huckleberries in your yard
The sun's heat on the back of our necks
And our knees in the dark damp dirt
The sour red berries burst on our tongues
Soon the red fish will run
They say it's genetic
The parasites in our brains
Red fish are filled with parasites
They say
Now I'm across the street
Looking at your yard
It's been four days since you fell out at red fish
And I wonder if the huckleberries are still there
And if the red fish will run

