CALL FOR PAPERS

The Centre of Canadian Studies at Edinburgh plans to hold a conference on 4-5 May 1990 on the theme, "Limitless Identities: Is There a Canadian History?" Suggestions and offers of papers should be made by 1 October 1989 to Ged Martin, Centre of Canadian Studies, 21 George Square, Edinburgh EH8 9LD, Scotland.

Alternate Routes, a refereed, multi-disciplinary journal published by graduate students at Carleton University, is soliciting manuscripts for the next volume. The theme is "The Politics of Labour," and it will focus on the historical and contemporary transformation of class and work relations and their relevance for current labour struggles. The deadline is 1 September 1989, and submissions should be sent to Alternate Routes, Department of Sociology and Anthropology, Carleton University, Ottawa, Ontario, K1S 5B6. Three copies of the manuscript are needed.

CONFERENCES

The eleventh annual North American Labor History Conference will be held at Wayne State University 19-21 October 1989. The program will include sessions on Canadian, European, and American labor history. For more information, contact Philip P. Mason, Director, Walther P. Reuther Library, 5401 Cass, Detroit, Michigan, 48202.

The Lowell Conference on Industrial History will take place 26-28 October 1989. The theme is "After Hours: Life Outside of the Work Place." More information may be obtained by writing Dr. Edward Jay Pershey, Tsongas Industrial History Center, Boot Mill #8, Foot of John Street, Lowell, Massachusetts, 01852.

The International Industrial Relations Association is holding its eighth world congress in Brussels, 31 August 8 September 1989. The pre-congress will run 31 August 1 September, and its theme is "Labour Relations in Belgium." The congress will run 4-7 September; the theme will be "Labour Relations in a Changing Social, Economic, and Technological Environment." The final day will be a meeting of the IIRA study groups. For further information, contact IIRA Secretariat, c/o LEG/REG, ILO, CH-1211 Geneva 22, Switzerland.
